EXPLORING ANCIENT GREECE

“ Really good tour with excellent guides and like minded fellow travellers. ”

Athens - Jane Cable - December 2025

| EXPLORING THE LEGACY OF GREECE |

Ancient Greece continues to exert an extraordinary hold upon the contemporary imagination, and with good reason. Here was forged the vocabulary of Western political thought: democracy, tyranny, oligarchy. Here emerged the foundational questions of philosophy, from Socratic ethics to Aristotelian logic. The architectural principles established at the Parthenon still inform our urban environment, whilst Greek sculptural ideals shaped artistic sensibility for two millennia.

This year's Andante Travels' Greek programmes invite you to explore that inheritance through a series of expertly curated journeys, covering a chronological sweep of nearly four millennia. Those interested in the origins of European civilisation will find two dedicated explorations of Minoan Crete, examining the palatial complexes at Knossos and Phaistos alongside the catastrophic volcanic eruption at Thera (Santorini). For those wishing to embark on a modern-day odyssey, we travel from Athens to Delphi and as far south as Sparta on our Classical Greece tour as we follow the flowering of Greek culture in the first millennium BCE. Within our Aegean Odyssey Cruise and Discover the Dodecanese programmes we celebrate the maritime spirit of Greek history - from Delos and Rhodes to Kos and Crete, these itineraries illuminate the networks that bound the Aegean into a coherent, if contested, cultural sphere.

And of course, the Greek story is not confined to the familiar ruins of the islands and southern mainland. We take pride in venturing into the "wild" peripheries. In Macedonia, we witness the transition from tribal kingdom to global empire under Philip II and Alexander the Great. We traverse Wild Thrace and venture into territory contested by Greeks, Persians, Thracians and Macedonians, exploring the Sanctuary of the Great Gods on Samothrace and the battlefield of Philippi. And from our beautiful lakeside base in Ioannina, we visit extraordinary sites including Dodona, Greece's oldest oracle site, predating even Delphi in its religious authority.

Across every tour, Andante Travels' expert Guide Lecturers bring sites and stories vividly to life, drawing on archaeological discovery and historical scholarship to illuminate monuments and landscapes within their wider contexts. Together, the journeys in this brochure offer not simply travel, but thoughtful exploration — an invitation to experience the Greek past as something both profoundly distant and quietly, compellingly present.

Many of our Guide Lecturers are authorities on Greek Civilisation, including Oliver Gilkes, Dr Christina Hatzimichael-Whitley and Dr Rita Roussos, who offer fascinating insights into this remarkable era. Dr Whitley, a tutor in Greek Archaeology at the Cardiff Centre for Lifelong Learning (LEARN), specialises in Minoan Crete and co-directs the Praisos survey and excavation project. Dr Roussos focuses her research on Greek sculpture from the fourth century BCE and has participated in archaeological projects at Isthmia, Kato Lossous, and Mantinea and has led numerous Andante tours to Greece.

As you journey through this land of sun-soaked ruins, breathtaking landscapes, symbols of ancient civilisations and legendary myths, let our specialists guide you. They will delve into the intricate details of the past, revealing the ingenuity and marvels of human achievement behind these wonders and explaining their significance in a way that brings history vividly to life.

THE RISE AND LEGACY OF ANCIENT GREECE From Bronze age palaces to Hellenistic Kingdoms

WHERE MYTH, PHILOSOPHY AND POWER CONVERGED, ANCIENT GREECE FORGED IDEAS THAT ENDURE TO THIS DAY

From the earliest Bronze Age communities to the city-states of the Classical period, Greek civilisation laid many of the foundations upon which Western thought, politics and culture still rest. Philosophy, drama, architecture and historical enquiry all emerged from a world in which myth and reason co-existed, and where power was expressed as much through ideas as through arms.

Across the Greek mainland and beyond, archaeology reveals a civilisation that was never static. Cities rose and fell, identities were reshaped, and political ambition was constantly negotiated between tradition and innovation. The two sites featured here represent just a glimpse of the places explored on our Greek journeys – carefully chosen highlights that illuminate a wider, richly layered story revealed across many more landscapes and monuments.

AIGAI: ROYAL AUTHORITY AND THE MAKING OF MACEDON

Set among the foothills of northern Greece, Aigai was the first capital of the Macedonian kingdom and the ceremonial heart of a dynasty that would reshape the ancient world. As one of the key highlights of our journey through northern Greece, it offers an exceptional introduction to the political culture and royal ideology of ancient Macedon.

On Day 4 of our Macedonia tour (p10), we devote a full day to exploring the three principal monuments of Aigai, allowing time for careful study and discussion. Central to the visit is the Polycentric Museum of Aigai, opened to the public in 2022. Its innovative galleries unite sculpture, inscriptions, architectural fragments and grave goods to present Aigai as a functioning royal centre rather than a static archaeological site. Through this integrated narrative, the museum charts more than a millennium of political and ritual life.

Nearby stands the Palace of Aigai, opened in 2024 following decades of excavation and conservation. Monumental in scale and refined in design, the palace complex reveals the ambitions of Macedonian rulers who consciously aligned themselves with Greek cultural traditions while asserting a distinct political identity. Colonnaded courtyards, mosaics and carefully planned ceremonial spaces demonstrate how architecture was used as an instrument of authority and display.

Completing the picture is the surrounding royal necropolis, which includes the richly furnished tomb traditionally identified as that of Philip II, father of Alexander the Great. Gold wreaths, weaponry and painted façades offer rare insight into elite burial practices and the symbolic language of kingship in the late Classical period.

THEBES: MYTH, MEMORY AND POWER IN BOEOTIA

Among the many cities encountered across mainland Greece, Thebes stands out for the depth and complexity of its legacy. Renowned in myth as the home of Cadmus, Oedipus and Dionysus, and feared in history as a formidable political power, Thebes played a decisive role in shaping the fortunes of the ancient Greek world.

Our exploration centres on the Archaeological Museum of Thebes, whose exceptional collections span from the Palaeolithic period to the Post-Byzantine era. This rare chronological breadth allows us to trace patterns of settlement, belief and identity across the Boeotian plain over several millennia.

The museum's Bronze Age material highlights Thebes' prominence during the Mycenaean period, while later galleries illuminate its Classical and Hellenistic phases. Of particular significance is the city's rise to power in the fourth century BCE, when Thebes challenged Spartan dominance and briefly reshaped the political balance of Greece.

Artefacts on display – many of them rare or unique – reveal daily life, religious practice and civic organisation across successive eras. Together, they challenge narratives that place Athens at the centre of all cultural development, instead presenting a landscape of competing city-states and regional identities.

Beyond the museum, the city itself bears the imprint of its layered past. Fragmentary fortifications, civic spaces and sacred precincts invite reflection on the interplay between mythic tradition and historical experience.

From royal centres to historic city-states, ancient Greece reveals a landscape shaped by power, belief and cultural exchange. The two sites presented here form part of a much wider exploration of places that continue to inform and enrich our understanding of the ancient world.

IOANNINA

Highlights of Epirus

6 days from £3,105pp

Positioned on the western shore of Lake Pamvotis and encircled by the impressive Pindus Mountains, we find Ioannina, capital of Epirus, and one of Greece's most scenic towns. From this most excellent of bases, we explore a selection of extraordinary archaeological sites, each representing a different era of Greek history: Dodona, Greece's oldest oracle site (predating Delphi), the 4th-century city of Kassope with its impressive theatre, as well as Nikopolis, founded by Octavian in 31 BCE, and Arta, known for its outstanding Byzantine monuments.

TOUR HIGHLIGHTS

Delight in a beautiful area of Greece that is still largely untroubled by masses of visitors

Explore the ruins of Nikopolis, a city founded by Augustus to establish Roman dominion over Greece

Enjoy the quiet beauty of Kassope, where there are spectacular views of the Ambracian Gulf

Day One | UK - Preveza - Ioannina

We fly from London Gatwick to Preveza.

Day Two | Ioannina & Dodona

We begin our exploration of Ioannina, a picturesque Greek town that once thrived as the medieval heart of Ali of Tepelena's realm, famously depicted in Byron's Childe Harold's Pilgrimage. Our walking tour includes the Castro and the Archaeological Museum, showcasing finds from Dodona, including pilgrim's questions and answers. In the afternoon, we visit Dodona, Greece's oldest oracle, where Zeus communicated through rustling oak leaves. The site hosts massive festivals and one of Greece's largest ancient theatres.

Day Three | Nikopolis

Our day is dedicated to Nikopolis, or 'Victory City', built by Augustus after the Battle of Actium in 31 BCE to secure Roman control over Western Greece. Nikopolis housed veteran Roman soldiers and forcibly relocated locals from towns like Kassope. We visit the Actian sanctuary, featuring an altar, theatre, stadium, museum, and ancient city centre remnants. On our return to Ioannina, we pause at the Haigos Giorgios aqueduct, which once supplied water to Nikopolis's Nymphaeum complex.

Day Four | Arta & Orraon

We journey south to Arta on the Ambracian Gulf, a significant Byzantine centre and capital of Pyrrhus of Epirus. Our visit includes the Archaeological Museum, the uniquely Byzantine Church of Panagia Parigoritissia, and the impressive Arachthos River bridge, an engineering marvel. Returning to Ioannina, we explore the fortified Hellenistic city of Orraon, featuring well-preserved houses, fortified walls with towers, and a strategic cistern, crucial for guarding the passage from the Amvrakikos Gulf to the Ioannina basin.

Day Five | Kassope & Nekromateion

We start at the Hellenistic city of Kassope, perched high in the hills with stunning views of the Ambracian Gulf, where the battle of Atrium occurred. Kassope is a model city, boasting an agora, theatre, and regular street grid, though abandoned for Nicopolis's population. In the afternoon, we visit the Nekromateion of the Acheron on the Ionian coast, a site shrouded in controversy, possibly linked to the oracle of the dead known from classical texts.

Day Six | Ioannina - Preveza - UK

We return to Preveza Airport for our return flight to London Gatwick.

The glories of northern Greece

8 days from £3,535pp

This tour of Northern Greece explores outstanding archaeological sites shaped by Macedonians, Thracians, Romans, Byzantines, Slavs and Ottomans. We journey through landscapes of canyons, lakes, waterfalls and rivers in a region dense with history. Discover sanctuaries, victory monuments, palaces, painted tombs and pebble mosaics at Verghina and Pella, and visit Kastoria's beautiful lakeside setting and Thessaloniki, whose historical importance rivals Constantinople.

TOUR HIGHLIGHTS

Admire the remarkable frescos which decorate the Byzantine churches of Kastoria

Discover the waterfalls at Edessa, a city defined by water

Enjoy the richest ancient burial ever found in Europe - the tomb of Philip II - and its museum

Explore ancient Pella, the capital of Macedonia and famous birthplace of Alexander the Great

Day One | UK - Thessaloniki - Kastoria

Today fly from London Gatwick to Thessaloniki and transfer to Kastoria, a beautiful lakeside town situated on a rocky isthmus on the shores of Lake Orestiada.

Day Two | Kastoria

Aside from its picturesque charms, Kastoria boasts more than 70 Byzantine and post-Byzantine churches dating from the 9th to the 16th centuries scattered around the town. Many are sadly in a poor state of repair but distinguished by the frescoes which decorate them. The quality of the artwork is astonishing and we visit a small selection at Agios Stephanos, Taxiarchis Oikonomou and Archangel Michael, each concealing something unique behind their intricate brickwork. Later, we explore Dispilio, the site of a large Neolithic settlement that once stood on stilts in the lake

Day Three | Kastoria - Edessa

Before we leave the region, we visit the Aigos Orestiko Archaeological Museum, which displays important finds from excavations in the region. Afterwards, we continue to Edessa, a city defined by the water which flows into it from the Pindus Mountains to the west. The waterfalls of Edessa are a striking natural wonder noted from the Roman Empire to the travel writing of Edward Lear. We admire their thundering beauty before we follow the road over the Ottoman bridge that carried the Via Egnatia across the river and explore the remnants of the ancient city. Later, we continue to Mezia and visit the Nymphaeum where Aristotle instructed the pupils of the Macedonian elite, Alexander the Great among them, in political discourse and philosophy.

Day Four | Edessa - Aigai - Thessaloniki

Today is dedicated to Verghina (ancient Aigai), the capital of the Macedonian kingdom before its move to Pella in the 4th century BCE. We see the remarkable painted tombs, displayed in the excellent site Museum of the Royal Tombs of Aigai, under the recreated mound which originally covered the burials. We also visit the newly opened Palace of Aigai, once one of the largest buildings in Classical Greece, as well as the new Polycentric Museum of Aigai. After our site visit, we continue to Thessaloniki for our first night in this fascinating city.

Day Five | Pella - Thessaloniki

Our first visit today is to Pella, where we explore Macedonia's administrative capital and the birthplace of both Philip II and Alexander the Great. We see the monumental agora, houses and the exceptional mosaics made from carefully selected natural pebbles, now on display in the museum. These extraordinary mosaics were made mostly of carefully selected natural pebbles with occasional use of artificial tesserae, terracotta and strips of lead; the eyes were inlaid with precious stones that have not survived. In the afternoon, we return to Thessaloniki to visit the Archaeological Museum with extraordinary finds from the city and its region, including the stunning Derveni bronze crater.

Day Six | Dion

We travel south following the curve of the coastline to Dion at the foot of Mount Olympus, the religious capital of Macedonia. An evocative site with a magical setting, surrounded by trees in which nightingales sing and crisscrossed with a labyrinth of springs and streams. It is here that both Philip II and Alexander used to celebrate their victories by holding Olympic Games and magnificent receptions and where Alexander conducted sacrifices before his campaign into Asia in 334 BCE. We also visit the nearby small Archaeological Museum.

Day Seven | Thessaloniki

Today is devoted to Thessaloniki, founded by King Cassander as a new capital city. We explore the city on foot, taking in the Agora and Roman forum before heading to the Late Roman palace complex of Galerius to view the Rotunda and the Triumphal Arch of the emperor. We take a short walk along the promenade to see the White Tower, before stopping for lunch nearby. In the afternoon, we pay a visit to two of the city's oldest churches, Aghios Dimitrios and Aghia Sophia, before we head to the Byzantine, UNESCO World Heritage-listed, Walls of Thessaloniki, or Kastra as they are known to those that live in the city. Over half of these fortifications, which once protected the city, are still standing today. Afterwards, a visit to the adjacent and equally superb Byzantine Museum completes our survey of the region's archaeology.

Day Eight | Thessaloniki - UK

We transfer to the airport for our return flight to London Gatwick.

Day Three | Athens

This morning we explore the National Archaeological Museum. Now somewhat overlooked by visitors flocking to the Acropolis Museum, it is worth remembering that this older museum is still home to one of the greatest collections of antiquities in the world. Established in 1829 to protect antiquities from all over Greece, there are over 11,000 exhibits dating as far back as the Neolithic period through to late antiquity. From the huge bronze statue of Poseidon (or is it Zeus?) to the golden mask of Agamemnon, the antiquities on display here provide the staple images of ancient Greece. In the afternoon, we continue our exploration of Athens with a walk through the Agora, the political and commercial heart of ancient Athens where Socrates stood trial and where free-born male Athenian citizens could come to cast their vote.

Day Four | Athens - Thebes - Delphi

This morning we drive north to the site of ancient Thebes. The ancient city holds a central place in ancient Greek mythology as the setting for many prominent myths and legends, including the stories of Oedipus and Antigone. Here we visit the newly rebuilt Archaeological Museum, one of the most important in Greece. The finds from Boeotia, covering the Palaeolithic up to post Byzantine periods, comprise some rare and unique collections. We then continue our journey to Delphi where we stay overnight.

Day Five | Delphi - Olympia

Our morning is devoted to the Panhellenic Sanctuary at Delphi in its wonderfully dramatic mountain setting. The temple, perched on a high terrace, is approached by the sacred way, which passes numerous 'treasuries' and other monuments of the city-states of Greece, vying for the attention of visitors both past and present. The oracle was given by a priestess called the Pythia who sat on a tripod over a chasm in the inner sanctum and, inhaling the vapours which issued from it, uttered prophecies in a trance. We also visit the on-site museum, home to some extraordinary artefacts, including the famous Charioteer, a masterpiece of classical art sculpted in bronze. We depart in the early afternoon, crossing the Rion-Antirion bridge, and travel to the Peloponnese peninsula at Olympia.

Day Six | Olympia - Nafplion

This morning, we explore Olympia, home of the first and greatest Panhellenic Games and the most important religious centre in the 8th century BCE. Here we find the ruins of the ancient stadium and temples such as the Pelopion, once the alleged tomb of Pelops, the mythical chariot-racing king who gave this region its name. The major festivals here once provided opportunities for the meeting of representatives from the Greek states. Facilities discovered at the sanctuary include a gymnasium, with covered practice running track and palaistra (training compound), baths and a hotel. Archaeologists have also found evidence of the camps and traders' stalls set up by ordinary visitors to the games. We also visit the small on-site museum before we continue to Nafplion, where we spend the next four nights.

Day Seven | Nafplion & Epidaurus

Our first visit today is to the excellent Archaeological Museum located in the main square of Nafplion. Here we see artefacts from excavations in the general Argolid region, including extraordinary Mesolithic finds and objects from several Bronze Age settlements and tombs, as well as later Archaic, Classical and Hellenistic items. After lunch we drive east to the ancient site of Epidaurus, a celebrated centre of healing in the ancient world. It is famous for its magnificently preserved theatre superbly set against a background of rolling hills. Its acoustics are extraordinary - the tearing of a piece of paper at the centre of the orchestra can be heard in the uppermost tier!

Day Eight | Corinth

Today we drive west to Corinth, situated at the isthmus which joins the Peloponnese to the northern Greek mainland. In antiquity, to avoid the long and hazardous sailing route around the Peloponnese, ships were winched across the isthmus on a paved way - the diolkos. We visit the Sanctuary of Poseidon at Isthmia, once one of four sites that hosted a quadrennial cycle of athletic competitions, known to us as the Panhellenic Crown Games. From the time the games were founded in 584 BCE until the end of the 4th century AD, Greeks (and later Romans) competed here in contests of speed, strength and even singing ability, each seeking to win the crown of pine that was the traditional award. After lunch we visit Corinth itself, one of the great cities of Classical Greece, which according to Hellenic myth was founded by Corinthos, a descendant of the god Helios.

Day Nine | Mycenae

We explore the great Bronze Age hilltop site of Mycenae, another major hub of Greek civilisation and, according to Greek tradition, capital of legendary King Agamemnon. We walk into the city, with its remarkable Cyclopean walls, through the famous Lion Gate and view the archaeological remains of the acropolis, including the palace and the grave circles where the so-called mask of Agamemnon was found. Now in the National Museum at Athens, the discovery of this stunning mask prompted Henrich Schliemann to say, 'I have gazed upon the face of Agamemnon'. In the afternoon we explore Tiryns, a Mycenaean hillfort whose cyclopean walls made it one of the most notable fortresses of Mycenaean Greece, and also reputedly the birthplace of Heracles. The city suffered the same collapse that destroyed Mycenaean civilisation at the end of the Bronze Age but remained a small but dwindling township into classical antiquity.

Day Ten | Mystras - Sparta - Kalamata

We leave Nafplion this morning and head south to Mystras on the slopes of the hill of Mezythra. The ruins of this Byzantine town have some of the finest examples of 14th and 15th century AD architecture in Greece. Churches, monasteries and houses line the winding streets, and the summit is topped by an impregnable fortress. We spend most of our morning here and after lunch continue south to nearby Sparta, situated within the expansive, fertile Eurotas valley. Its decentralised layout stands in stark contrast to other Greek poleis of the time and city's austere culture, which differed markedly from Athens' grand architectural ambitions, resulted in relatively modest construction projects. Most of the archaeological ruins visible today date back to the Roman era and include the ancient theatre, the partially preserved sanctuary of Artemis Orthia and the site alleged to be the tomb of Spartan King Leonidas.

Day Eleven | Kalamata - UK

Our classical odyssey comes to an end. We bid farewell to Greece and fly back to London Gatwick.

Day One | UK - Athens

Today fly from London to Athens and settle in to our hotel.

Day Two | Athens

Our first full day is dedicated to the Acropolis and its museum. We walk through ancient Athens and then climb to the incomparable Acropolis, which still dominates the city with a complex of religious sanctuaries, most famous of which is the Parthenon - 'Chamber of the Maiden'. Built in the 5th century to house a colossal statue of Athena, patron goddess of the city, the views from here are simply stunning. After lunch in the Plaka, we visit the fabulous Acropolis Museum, which is consistently rated as one of the best museums in the world.

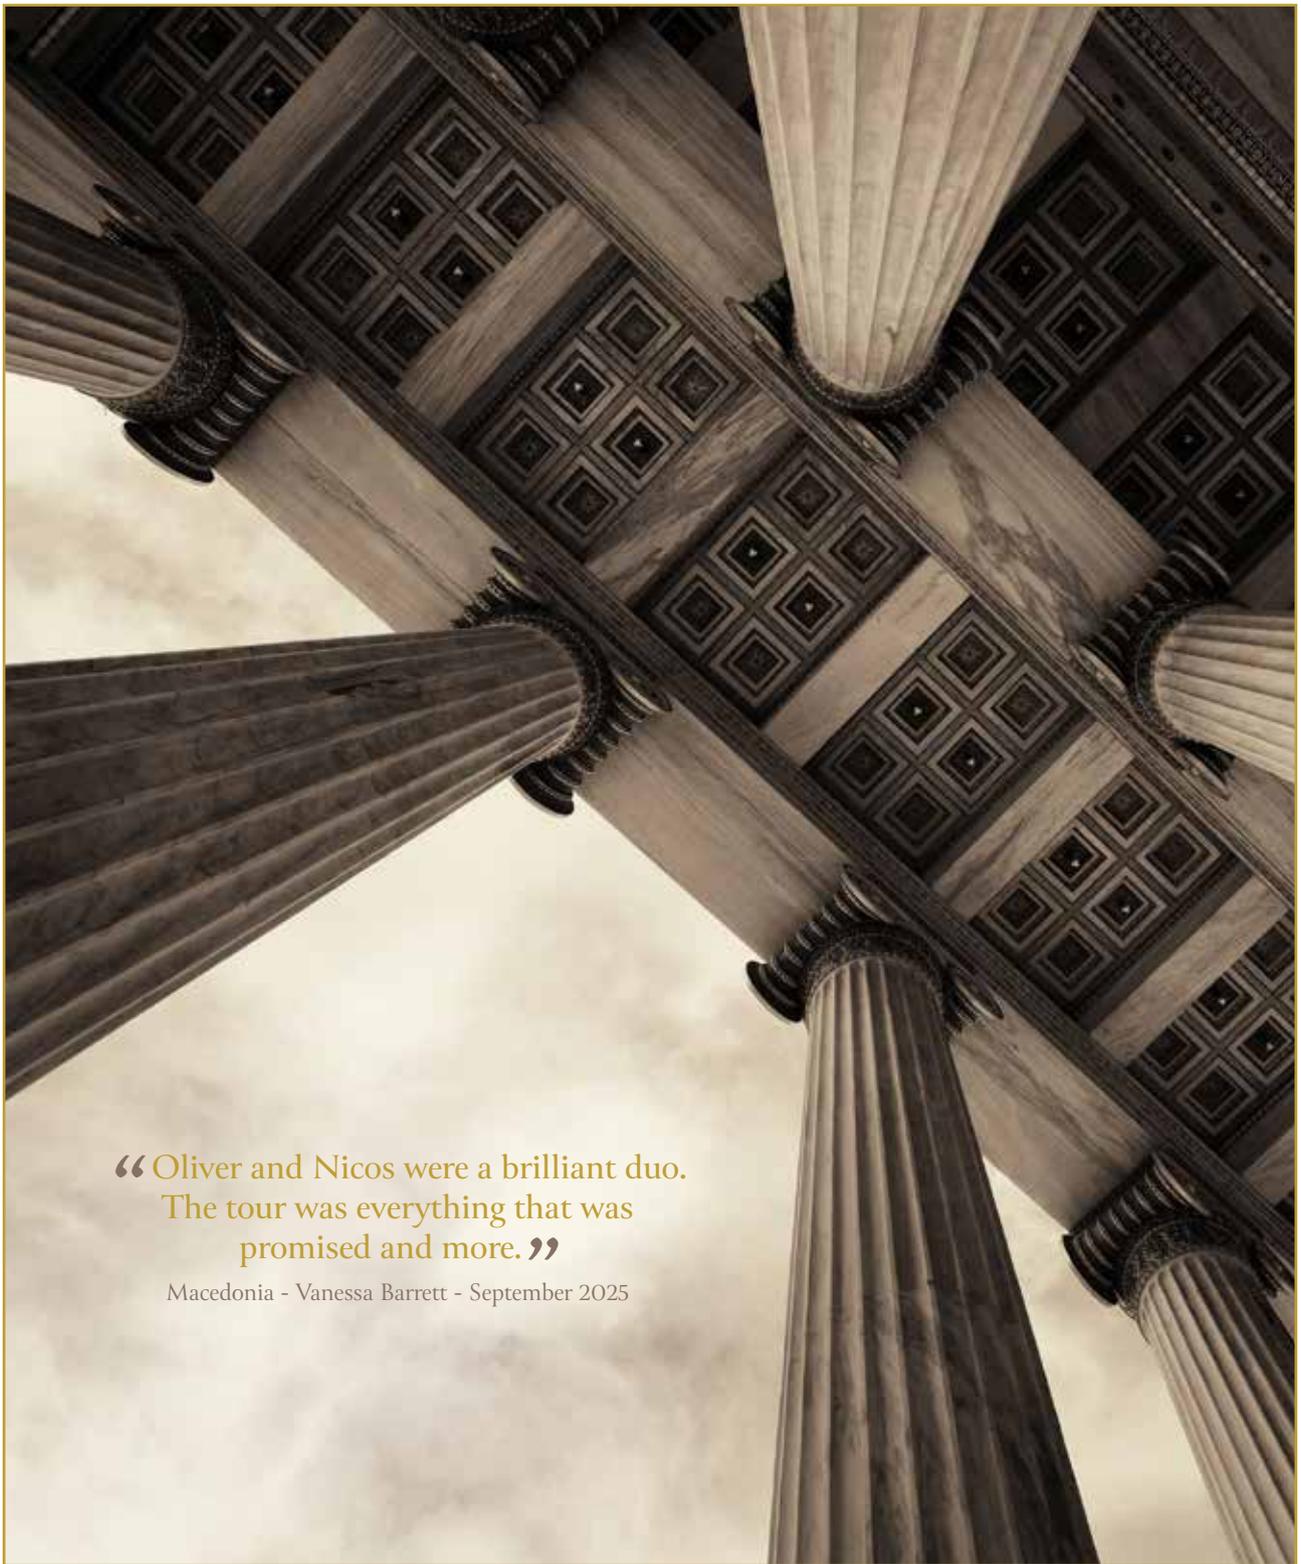

Day Three | Athens

We continue our exploration of Athens, visiting its ancient economic centre, the Agora, where a wide range of goods were shipped in from the nearby port of Piraeus and members of the elected democracy assembled to discuss affairs of state. Next, we visit Kerameikos, named in ancient times after the hero Keramos, son of Dionysus and Ariadne, where an extensive cemetery was excavated during the 19th and early 20th centuries. After lunch we visit the National Museum of Athens. Now somewhat overlooked by visitors flocking to the Acropolis Museum, it is worth remembering that this older museum is still home to a great collection of antiquities.

Day Four | Athens - UK

In the morning, we travel to Piraeus, which once consisted of three separate harbours - Kantharos, Zea and Munichia. All three harbours are still used today but since the sea level has risen two metres since antiquity, many of the ancient installations of Piraeus are now underwater. Excavations still continue, however, and notable finds have included several bronze statues, perhaps the most famous being of Apollo now in the Piraeus Archaeological Museum. Later today we board our return flight to London.

“Oliver and Nicos were a brilliant duo.
The tour was everything that was promised and more.”
